

Call-for application to IUPS “Social Media Award” at FAOPS2023 Congress

International Union of Physiological Societies (IUPS) calls young physiologists for application to a “Social Media Award” on the occasion of the FAOPS2023 Congress (Nov 1-3, 2023; Daegu, Korea).

We will award a series of posts (in English, preferably with photos) on any of the social media (e.g. Facebook, TikTok, X or similar) which report about the conference, e.g. most impressive scientific news and presentations, why attendance of such a congress is beneficial, why physiology is fun, etc.

The award will be given to one person or one team, and the amount of the award is 500 USD.

Teams or single persons can apply. They are invited to share their posts during the congress and shortly after. Applicants are requested to submit a short report containing texts and photos of their posts to Prof. Yoshihiro Kubo (2nd-Vice President of IUPS; Email: ykubo@nips.ac.jp). The deadline of application is Nov. 25 (Sat), 2023.

A team from IUPS and FAOPS2023 Congress will evaluate the applications and decide the winner. It is expected that the awarded posts can be further distributed via the IUPS website and IUPS social media channels
